PROJECTS

Optra (11/2020 - Present)

Volta Charging has build many electric stations in the US. Optra provides a platform to view stations and chargers for each station. When car started charging, stopped charging all the data is updated in the web in NRT using GraphQL and react query. Optra also provides Remote controls for each charger like get status, soft reset, hard reset etc.

Site Partner Portal (03/2021 - Present)

In Volta Charging, also worked on the Site Partner Portal. In this project, we displayed the number of customers, total kWh delivered, avg. charge session length, avg. station dwell time using charts.

Network Planning Tool (06/2021 - 11/2021)

It was a tool used for predicting where should we install a new station depending on the requirement of the population and the adoption of electric vehicles.

Homage (11/2020 - 03/2021)

Worked as a part-time React JS developer on a health care application, where patients can schedule appointments with doctors using card payment. And then the doctor will visit their home for a checkup.

Bigbyte Insights (02/2019 - 11/2020)

We scrapped data from almost 300+ websites and built APIs using Django. Used these APIs to create a dashboard using recharts to get useful insights from the data and publish blogs. For blog writers integrated Froala editor in react js.
